

To find your egg
you'll have to think,
The next clue is hiding by the kitchen sink

Bunnies hop and
baby chicks cheep,
To find your next
clue look where you sleep

The Easter bunny's given you this direction,
To find your next
clue you must find your reflection

The garden in spring is full of new plants grown from
seeds,
But your next clue
is in a place full of things to read

Are you ready for another clue?
The next one is hiding in someone's shoe

An Easter treat is in store,
Go and look by
the front door

The baby lambs have joined the flock,
And left a clue by
the clock

You've followed the clues and soon
you'll hold,
Your Easter egg
that's hidden
somewhere cold
